ICELAND ROVERS

SUPER JEEP TOURS

Welcome

Since 1997, Iceland Rovers has used its expert knowledge, passion for nature and pioneering spirit to design innovative activities for travelers from around the globe. Comfort adventures, local culture, cozy lodgings and tasty cuisine are at the heart of our travel philosophy. While our exciting modified super jeep day tours in this brochure feature the powerful geysers, active volcanoes and stunning glaciers that Iceland has become famous for, we intentionally venture beyond the crowded tourist spots to reveal the hidden gems that local Icelandic people cherish. Whether you join us for an off-road adventure to hunt the Northern Lights in winter, or you journey with us into the highlands in the summer, you're in for an unforgettable small group experience.

Make every moment an experience!

Our professional guides

Iceland Rovers is proud to have a highly-qualified team of experienced guides and Super Jeep drivers that have a passion for travel and Icelandic nature. The majority of our guides have passed a crevasse rescue course designed by Icelandic Mountain Guides, our sister company. This course ensures that our Super Jeep Driver Guides have the proper safety training to travel on Icelandic Glaciers.

The Most Awarded Adventure Tour Company in Iceland

We are proud of the reputation we have earned and we encourage you to share your experience with others on our website, Trip Advisor, Facebook or other media sites.

Drive on a glacier UNESCO world heritage site Lava cave, hot spring & waterfalls

Enjoy a journey through a landscape of extreme contrasts, full of history and geology. After an early pickup in Reykjavik, we head out of the city to Þingvellir National Park - a UNESCO World Heritage site that played host to the ancient Viking parliament dating back to the 10th century. From there, we venture into the highlands. Our modified 4x4 vehicles literally take you off the beaten path as we drive through the barren mountain pass of Kaldidalur to Langjökull for an unforgettable discovery of this enormous glacier. The lava field of Hallmundarhraun is our next destination, where you will explore one of Iceland's biggest and most spectacular lava caves. *After caving, we visit the unusual waterfalls of Hraunfossar and Barnafoss, and view one of the world's largest hot springs before returning to Reykjavik.

Note: The name Þingvellir is often written as Pingvellir or Thingvellir.
Languages: English (French, Scandinavian languages or German upon request).

Eyjafjallajökull Volcano Sólheimajökull glacier Walk South Coast waterfalls

We set out from Reykjavík and head east toward the infamous Eyjafjallajökull Volcano. Our route takes us inland in the direction of Þórsmörk Valley, a mountain ridge named after the Norse God Thor. It is home to spectacular gorges, icy rivers and picturesque landscapes. After riding through the Valley, we travel all the way up to Gígjökull, a spectacular outlet glacier that flows from the Eyjafjallajökull Crater. There, we can get an idea of the forces that were at play during the 2010 eruption that disrupted air travel for so many. You'll witness that the impact of the eruption is still very visible today. Continuing east, we arrive at Sólheimajökull glacier, where we go for a short and easy Glacier Walk up onto the ice field (1h30). As we learn more about the Icelandic glaciers and the effect of climate change, we examine the wonderland of ice sculptures, ridges and deep crevasses. On the way back to Reykjavík, we visit the impressive waterfalls, Skógafoss and Seljalandsfoss.

Icelandic highlands
Bath in a natural hot spring
Breathtaking volcanic landscapes

This is an unforgettable tour through some of the most rugged terrain in the southern part of the Icelandic highlands. After traveling outside the city limits, we head to the foot of Hekla, where the landscape has been shaped by centuries of volcanic activity. In our modified 4x4 vehicles we climb as high as 1000 m (3280') above sea level on roads that are not accessible to ordinary cars and buses. At this altitude, we enjoy fascinating views over the Fjallabak Nature Reserve and some of Iceland's magnificent glaciers. We continue to Landmannalaugar, located in the Icelandic highlands. There we go for a short hike to enjoy the picturesque nature all around us. A relaxing dip in a warm natural pool is optional before heading back to Reykjavik. The unreal beauty featured on this full day tour tugs on the heartstrings of nature lovers with its amazing range of colors, steaming hot springs, glacier ice and explosive craters.

Pingvellir, Gullfoss and Geysir Drive on Langjökull glacier Venture beyond the golden circle

In addition to visits to Gullfoss waterfall, pingvellir National Park, and the Great Geysir, this tour will take you further inland and on top of Iceland's second largest glacier! Our first stop is at pingvellir National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage site that was once home to Iceland's ancient Viking parliament. We will take a walk in this area to experience firsthand the geological phenomenon of the Mid-Atlantic ridge. From pingvellir, we head east over a mountain road with great views of the rugged lava fields to Haukadalur, home of the great Geysir. There, you will see the reliable Strokkur geyser spout hot water up to 30 m in the air. As we approach the magnificent Gullfoss, you will hear the roar of water cascading down the white colored Hvítá river. Next up, Langjökull! We stop on the glacier and hop out of the 4x4 to experience this natural wonder in all its glory. This unique tour lets you venture beyond the typical highlights and travel like a local with us.

South shore combo tour Black sand beach Aurora super jeep hunt

Big on Iceland but short on time? Our super jeep tour of the south coast of Iceland explores the magnificent sights along this popular region of the country. Starting the day with a scenic drive that features moss covered landscapes, bubbling hot springs, and majestic mountains, we will stop at the breathtaking Skógafoss waterfall. The vast and alluring famous black sand beach of Reynisfjara awaits us on our next stop. Here, you will see the unique and towering basalt columns at this unique location. On our stop to the majestic Seljalandfoss waterfall, you have the chance to go behind the waterfall and feel the light spray of fresh Icelandic water melting from nearby glaciers. After a day of visiting the gems of the south coast, you will surely have worked up an appetite. We stop at a local restaurant for a delicious meal and Irish coffee before heading off to hunt for the Northern Lights.*

Aurora super jeep hunt
Black sand beaches
Traditional lobster feast

You will be whisked out of Reykjavik in search of a night sky that is free of city lights to experience the beauty of the Aurora Borealis. This spectacular natural phenomenon is best enjoyed well away from any light source. While on our search for the majestic lights, we head down to black sandy beaches to gaze at the sky along the southern coast, sample Icelandic Schnapps and taste other Icelandic delicacies. The next stop takes us to one of Iceland's most renowned seafood restaurants for a delicious lobster feast. Icelandic lobster, langoustine, is smaller than the American lobster and has a sweet, delicate flavor. Once our taste buds have been entertained and our bellies are full, the hunt will continue for those mysterious lights in the winter sky all the way back to Reykjavik.*

Practical information

Booking is always necessary to guarantee your spot.

Clothing:

Bring warm clothing for all our tours, for an example a thick sweater, a waterproof shell and good hiking shoes. We can provide rain coats and extra clothing upon booking.

Departures:

Departures dated in the brochure are all guaranteed. Other dates can be booked for a minimum of 4 persons during any other weekday. All tours can be booked as private tours at any time, please contact us for more information.

Security:

The Icelandic climate is rough and very variable, so is the terrain. We therefore reserve the right to alter and modify our program at any time during the trip to assure the safety of our clients and staff. Our well trained guides will do their very best to ensure you have a safe and pleasant journey.

Languages:

All Iceland Rovers day tours are conducted in English. Other languages are available upon request for private departures.

Super jeeps:

Because of our emphasis on small group experience, all the Super Jeeps we use for our adventures are specially outfitted 4x4 vehicles that have been modified for expeditions in Iceland's remote, rugged and scenic landscape. They are mounted on 38" or 44" tires, equipped with a GPS satellite navigation system and VHF-radios, to get you around safely and comfortably. We do our best to choose vehicles that have low emissions and favorable fuel consumption per passenger seat. As avid environmental advocates, we work to minimize the impact of our Super Jeep tours.

Disclaimer:

Be advised that participation in all activities is entirely at your own risk. Participants must at all times behave in a responsible manner and follow instructions and safety guidelines given by our staff.

Iceland Rovers does not accept any responsibility for accidents that are a result of the participant's negligence, acts of third parties or other natural conditions beyond our control.

Cancellation policy:

Cancellation received more than 24 hours prior to departure are fully refunded.

Cancellation received less than 24 hours prior to departure will be charged full price.
